Relevant thematic areas for this call:

Ground-breaking research, Health, Welfare and education

Target groups:

Public sector, Industry, Research organisations

The Research Council of Norway is announcing €1 850 000 to Norwegian researchers who want to participate in a European research collaboration on enhancing primary and community care.

The aim of this call is to fund research and innovation projects that strengthen primary and community health and care systems and provide policy and decision makers with the necessary knowledge and tools to govern the transitions needed in the primary and community care sector. Projects funded under this call will deliver promising financial, organizational, and practice-based service innovations that promote the transformation of health and care systems and contribute to faster exchange of best practices across different countries and regions.

The call is a two-stage call. Proposals are peer-reviewed at both stages of evaluation. Only applicants whose pre-proposal is recommended by the peer-review panel will be invited to submit a full-proposal.

If the funding recipient is a commercial enterprise, the funding is granted in the form of state aid and is regulated by the state aid rules.
